

Freshly Organized Toolbox Materials

Kid Management

Success Chart

All the items and tips shared in an easy checklist format!

- Listen to the Kid Management podcast in the Kid Management Toolbox.
- Use the Parent Reflection to think through some of the areas you are struggling with, what you would like to change, and what your priorities are as a parent and as a family.
- Read through the articles and tips.
- Evaluate how your children are spending their time. All kids should have enough time for school, play, extracurricular and chores.
- Determine how you want to handle chores in your house.
- Share this new strategy with the family and implement.
- Reevaluate your child's wardrobe to simplify laundry and putting clothes away.
- Teach your child how to do their own laundry.
- Establish a lost and found basket in your house.
- Share this new strategy with the family and implement.
- Send us a question. Included with the purchase of a toolkit is one e-mail exchange with one of our professionals. Just send a question (if possible or necessary include a photo) and our professionals will respond with some possible solutions.
- You did it! Thanks for completing the Freshly Organized Kid

Notes:

Freshly Organized Toolbox Materials

Kid Management

Parent Reflection

Take some time to think through all of those ideas running around your head and make sense of them. From there, you can make a game plan that works for your family.

What are our family's priorities? What are our goals as parents?

What gets in our way of maintaining our priorities? What obstacles stop us from reaching our goals?

What are one or two areas of the house, parts of our day, or even habits that we could focus on as parents that would make an impact on our family? Think through the specifics of those changes.

Freshly Organized Toolbox Materials

Kid Management

Recommended Resources

Good reads and thought-provoking suggestions and ideas. Just apply what might work for your family and your home.

Website(s):

Love and Logic loveandlogic.com - Great books, podcasts, articles, and even classes.

Book(s)

Switch: How to Change Things When Change is Hard

By Chip Heath and Dan Heath

Organization(s)

Freshly Organized

info@freshlyorganized.com

402/670-3271

freshlyorganized.com

Traci Johns, Certified Professional Coach and Organizer

traci@proorganizing.com

Freshly Organized Toolbox Materials

Kid Management

Kid Routines

Help your kids manage time by building a routine that makes time for family, school, play, extracurricular activities & chores.

Things I like to do: _____ _____ _____ _____	Things I have to do: _____ _____ _____ _____
---	---

	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY
Morning (before school)
After school
After dinner

	SATURDAY	SUNDAY
Morning
Afternoon
Evening		